

Cock a Doodle Can Do

Storyline:

I know now where the term “cocky” comes from! Our little banty rooster was so full of himself, it never occurred to him that he should be intimidated by anything! Whether it was a 1200 pound horse or a riding lawn mower, he was ready to take ‘em on! He didn’t mean to be a bully, he was just protecting his girls. He did seem to get a little carried away though! It got to where little Jake wouldn’t leave the house without his big sister, and Taylor never left without her whiffle bat!! They would high-tail it for the playhouse, always on the lookout for the feisty little rooster. If he tried to “flap” them, Taylor would start swingin’. I don’t know if she ever actually made contact - he would bob and weave, bob and weave, like the best of boxers. I’ve never seen such confidence! I guess no one ever told him he only weighed 2 pounds!!

Lesson:

Some tasks or challenges may seem much too big to tackle. And perhaps they would be if we tried to do them all on our own. We need to remember that if it is an important task for a worthy cause, and if it fits into God’s plan, we can do anything with Christ’s help.

“I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me.”

Philippians 4:13
