

On the Right Path

Storyline:

When our family struck out for a trail ride in the Black Hills of South Dakota, we planned to be back in about four hours. Over eleven hours later, a tired - but no worse for the wear - group straggled back into camp. Amidst a day of singing and snacking, a few tears and a couple of scares, a little boy and his pony learned a very important lesson. If you just stay on the right path, you will eventually find your way home.

Lesson:

As we travel the road of life, there are many side trails which may tempt us, but would lead us away from Jesus. Even though the "narrow road" may have its share of sad or difficult times, we may rest in the assurance that it is the only road which leads to life - eternal life with God our Father. If we get off on a side trail, we can always make our way back to the right road. Our forgiveness is only in the asking, and our salvation is only in the believing.

"Enter through the narrow gate. For wide is the gate and broad is the road that leads to destruction, and many enter through it. But small is the gate and narrow the road that leads to life, and only a few find it."

Matthew 7:13-14
