

The Center of Attention

Storyline:

My daughter was so nervous about giving her first 4-H demonstration. It was going to be on her pony, Sparky, and she would be the "center of attention". It turns out that she needn't have worried, because during her demonstration all the animals stole the show! From a disgruntled chicken, announcing that we were in her space at roosting time, to the antics of a cavorting Pygmy goat, one by one her audience was distracted.

Lesson:

God should be our focus, we should keep Him always before us. However, it is so easy to be distracted by the ways of the world and so often we lose sight of Him.

"I have set the Lord always before me."

Psalms 16:8
